LARGE CROWD SEE FINE WRESTLING AND BOXING IN TYRO MEET FINALS

No K.O.'s Scored—Several Bouts go Extra Rounds—McCormick, Touzel, Giulianelli, Murchison and Martin Win in Wrestling—Levesque, Cohen, Fry and Smith in Boxing—135 lb. Boxing Championship To Be Fought for Tuesday by Ecklin and Robertson.

Not a person in the large crowd that witnessed the boxing and wrestling bouts in Molson Hall Saturday could complain of the quality of the exhibitions. Some of the bouts were as fine and as evenly matched as anyone could ask for. These matches were the finals in the Tyro Meet which started last Wednesday. The competitions were run off alternately, as on Thursday, first a wrestling and then a boxing bout.

The program started with the 135 lb. wrestling in which class Murchison defeated Silverstein by gaining one fall in eight minutes. Neither man knew much about wrestling and the fall was secured by superior strength alone. The next match was also won by one fall in one minute twenty seconds. In this Touzel defeated Hamilton in the semi-final of the 147 lb. class. Both men showed the benefits of a small knowledge of wrestling. In the other semi-final of this class Chesley beat Kirshberg by virtue of one fall secured in the first few minutes but after that the bout was fairly even.

Giulianelli who has seemed to have romped through the 155 lb. class, with ease, so far struck an unexpectedly hard opponent in Curtis. It was necessary for this bout to go an overtime period before Giulianelli won the decision by his aggressiveness although he was unable to secure a fall. It was necessary for Chesley who had beaten Kirshberg to wrestle again, this time against Ziritzky. The bout was hard fought and the men well-matched. Ziritzky won by one fall in five minutes.

Next came the final and only heavyweight match of the meet. This was a short but interesting match in which Martino threw Nuddelman twice in less than three minutes. The only bout in the 126 pound class reflected little credit upon anyone. McCormick may have had some excuse because he had boxed the day before. He won from Cohen by getting one fall in 2 1/2 minutes. Cohen seemed to know only one hold, a headlock, and couldn't work that while McCormick spent most of his time trying to prevent him from securing it.

In the 147 lb. final between Touzel and Ziritzky neither man was able to get a fall. Both had wrestled before during the afternoon and so were a bit tired. After working hard till the time limit Touzel received the decision because he showed more aggressiveness.

The first boxing bout certainly foretold the quality of the exhibitions in this match which was in the 160 pound class E. Smith outpointed T. Kerr in a battle that as fought hard to the last bell. Smith scored a knockdown in the first round winning that frame but Kerr came back in the second and evened that round. In the last Smith had a shade because of his boxing and won the decision. Two welterweights, Fry and Gill put on an equally good bout. The first round was even, Fry doing most of the leading and Gill blocking cleverly. In the next two frames Fry got away for a lead and received the award.

Probably the best fight of the evening was between Ecklin and Musselman, 135 pounders. These men fought hard and cleverly and so evened that it was impossible to give a decision at the end of three rounds. An extra one minute was called and this was also even so a second extra had to be fought. This last round Ecklin won by the narrowest shade, giving him the decision. This was a semi-final and the other match in this class was between Robertson and Gray. Although Gray was a clever boxer Robertson's heavy hitting and forcing in the first two rounds won him the bout.

Levesque and Schafer two flyweights (112 lbs) put on a fast match with much heavy hitting for so light men. It was necessary to go an extra round before Levesque received the decision. The last bout which was in the 118 lb. class was between Cohen and Tapis. Cohen on each round scoring a knockdown in the first. Tapis put up a game fight all the way but could not seem to get in on his opponent who had quite a reach on him.

The unusual feature of the bouts was that in spite of all the heavy hitting there as not a k. o. scored in any fight.

The winners of the wrestling and boxing finals are:

Wrestling	Boxing
112 No entry	Levesque
118 Wienberg	Cohen
126 McCormick	McCormick
135 Giulianelli	Ecklin and Robertson to fight final on Tuesday
147 Touzel	Fry
155 Murchison	Smith
175 Martin	S. Kerr
Heavyweights Martino	Wright

THE PEN OR THE SWORD MIGHTIER?

Cercle Francais Debate Once More To-night

"Resolved that the pen is mightier than the sword" is the subject for debate at the next meeting of the Cercle Francais, to be held in the hall room of the Union to-night at eight-fifteen o'clock. Professor Stephen Leacock will be present as well as the members of the Freier Department.

The Cercle Francais has met once a week this season, as far as practically possible. There was however no meeting the first part of last week because it was thought that more members of the cercle would be able to come this evening provided too much of their time was not taken up by the activities of the French Club. Dr. Leacock is to be present and it is desirable that as many as possible be on hand at the occasion of his regular annual visit to the Cercle Francais.

The meeting will begin at 8.15 and the first item of the programme will be the debate (Resolved that the pen is mightier than the sword). The affirmative is to be sustained by Woolley of Arts '27 and Hellig of Commerce '25 while Gaudier of the secretary of the Cercle Francais, and Tatham of Arts '26 will speak for the negative. Each debater will be allowed ten minutes in which to present his arguments, and Woolley will have a five-minute rebuttal as leader of the affirmative.

After the debate there will be a discussion on what the speakers will have brought forward and on what they will perhaps, have failed to bring forth. The question will probably be thrashed out on historical grounds, but it will not be allowed to become too technical. Professor Du Roure Doctor Villard, Mm. Roche and Messac of the French Department and Professor Leacock will start the discussion, after which all are invited to take part.

All the members and regular followers of the meetings of the cercle are invited to come to the debate this evening. Cigarettes are to be distributed to those present.

Now is the time for all good men (and women) to subscribe for a McGill annual.

PHYSICS LECTURES AS USUAL TO-DAY

"Work Will go Full Steam Ahead" Says Dr. A. S. Eve

All lectures and laboratory classes will be resumed to-day in the Physics building despite the rather disastrous fire which occurred last Friday. In a statement to the McGill Daily last night Dr. A. S. Eve the director declared that the building was ready to receive the classes and work would go ahead as if nothing had happened.

"No estimate of the damage done can as yet be given," Dr. Eve declared. He repudiated the statements of one of the local papers to the effect that the damage had been only to the extent of three or four thousands of dollars. Some certain pieces of the apparatus destroyed could alone not be replaced for that amount.

Following one meeting held with the adjutors, Dr. Eve stated that another has been arranged for this afternoon in which the entire situation would be further considered.

Thanks to efficient work carried out into the night immediately after the fire the entire building has been cleaned out and made suitable for the continuation of the work involving thus no serious interruption in the carrying out of the various courses.

gies instead of going into wars and similar projects as other nations have achieved and as a result he must be given mental superiority over many other nations. On the other hand the Jew has suffered through history physically, and this is one of their weaknesses to day.

In closing the symposium Harold Freeman found himself differing with the previous speaker's ideas. He chose to look upon superiority claim as coming totally from the religious aspects of the matter. The entire Jew was a religious one he claimed, the Jews conceiving themselves as chosen by God and firmly believing in that. Closely associated with that he showed, is the idea of the Jews having a

SHARP SALE OF TICKETS IS EXPECTED

Union House Christmas Dance is Eagerly Awaited

EXCELLENT MUSIC

Porters to Dispose of Pastboards To-morrow at Once

From all indications around the campus there will be a sharp run for tickets to the Union House Christmas dance when they are put on sale tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock at the Tuck Shop in the Union, in the class rooms, in the corridors, around the dining tables and over the tea cups, the approaching dance is being discussed and there is a general feeling that Friday night's party will be worthy closing for McGill's social season of the year 1924. And feeling that it will be a fitting conclusion to the pre-Christmas term, undergraduates by the four score and plus are planning to join Tuesday's line-up in the Union, while coeds also by the four score and plus, have accepted eagerly, or are eagerly waiting to accept the orthodox invitation to the much anticipated function.

That this anticipatory enthusiasm is justified is easily seen by the plan which the Union House committee has announced already. In the first place a six piece orchestra under the leadership of Glen Adney is to supply the requisite symphony; and with Glen chasing his nimble fingers over the shimmering ivories and his co-musicians expertly handling their respective instruments, no doubt exists as to the quality of the music which will be supplied. To continue, the setting for the evening will be a festive nature, for with Christmas but a few days away it was decided that the Union House formal should be a Christmas party in every sense of the expression. Briefly, there will be Christmas decorations, Christmas favours, and a Christmas spirit. Evergreens, holly, mistletoe and Christmas trees will decorate the various rooms, so that the Union will take on an interior appearance which it has hitherto been stranger to. The cooing, more-over, will be of the highest order, and those who remember this year's Junior Prom know what that means.

Those who are planning to go are reminded again of the ticket sale to-morrow at one o'clock in the Union, where the limited number of one hundred and thirty five tickets will be offered for the unusually low cost of four dollars a piece.

The dance programme has been announced as follows.

The programme will be of a very high quality. Complete programme will be published later.

M.S.P.E. WIN GAMES WITH MACDONALD

First and Second Basketball Teams Victorious

69-6 AND 65-11

First Matches of Season Played in Montreal High School

The two M.S.P.E. teams defeated their Macdonald rivals at basketball on Saturday morning, in the Montreal High School gym. The first match between Macdonald 1 and M.S.P.E. 1 resulted in a win for the latter by the score 69-6. The second match which was between the second teams also went to M.S.P.E. by the score of 65-11.

The first game started with Macdonald getting the ball and scoring within the first few seconds of play, but they were unable to continue and the M.S.P.E. team soon overcame this lead, the period ending with 24 points for the winners against 6 for Macdonald.

In the second half Miss Tatlow and Miss Field's remarkable shooting brought the score to 69-6. Macdonald made no score at all during the half although the Macdonald centres made valiant efforts to get the ball toward their basket and had quite a lot more of the game than the score would indicate. The line-up of the 1st teams was as follows:—

M.S.P.E.	Macdonald
Forward
Tatlow	Field
Field	Mather
Centre
Robertson	Hamilton
Amaron	Cummings
Defence
Plumtre	Johansson
Keane	Hall

SECOND TEAMS.

When the second teams came on the floor the Macdonald team started at a pace but could not keep the ball from going to the M.S.P.E. basket where Miss Ramsay scored. Most of the play continued to be around the M.S.P.E. basket, the shooting of Miss Ramsay and Miss Ballard improving as the game progressed. There was some good passing done by the Macdonald team although Miss Sutherland, one of their centres, was slightly hurt but continued the play to the end. The score at half-time was 32-5.

In the second-half the Macdonald team although working hard failed to score more than 6 points, while the M.S.P.E.'s netted 33 making the score 65-11 when the whistle blew for time. Miss Parke turned her ankle at the end of the first half and could not resume play. Miss Watt substituted.

DENTS. THRIFT DANCE WAS SUCCESSFUL

Good Music and Novelty Dances

100 COUPLES

Students Catered Themselves And Made all Arrangements

Much credit is due to the Faculty of Dentistry for putting on the first novelty dance seen at McGill. This took the name of Thrift dance because by doing their own catering they made it possible to give the dance and supper for a nominal cost of one dollar per couple. Over one hundred couples attended.

Dean and Mrs. Thornton were present all through the dance, and both agreed with everyone present that the innovation of the thrift dance was a decided triumph.

Much credit is due to Jehill and his committee, who not only arranged the dance, but also took charge of the catering. The sophomores served the refreshments very efficiently. There was excellent punch to satisfy the longest thirst.

The music for the dancing was rendered by the Bluebird Orchestra, an efficient five piece band, consisting of piano violin drums saxophone and cornet.

The Pharmacy janitor, Jud, gave an enjoyable diversion ent, in form of a comic song. He was accompanied by Lightstone on the piano.

McGILL LOSE FIRST GAME TO Y.M.H.A.

Red and White Could not Overcome Initial Lead of Opponents

SCORE 27-18

Mendelsohn, Individual Star of Game, Scores 17 Points For Winners

The Red and White basketballs went down to defeat in their first game of the season, the hands of the Y.M.H.A. seniors on Saturday night, the score being 27-18. The McGill men did not seem to be lacking in their team play or passing but failed on numerous occasions to take advantage of openings to score. Art Koff who was playing centre was injured about half way through the second period when he went after a high ball. He had to be carried from the floor and the amount of injury done to his knee could not be ascertained at once. The Red and White defense was probably the best part of their team as Quackenbush, Hilton and Blumenstein played a great game keeping on the ball all the time and blocking or intercepting a great number of passes and dummies.

The individual star of the game was "Bashy" Mendelsohn who played with the McGill seniors for the past few years and is now with the Y.M.H.A. quintette. Of the twenty seven points which made up the total of the winners score Mendelsohn accounted for seventeen. His shots were made from all angles and his ability to receive a pass in a scoring position was almost uncanny. He was also invaluable at back checking and kept going at top speed all the time he was on the floor. He was ably assisted by his team mates who played well on the defensive and had excellent combination. Beecher was very effective as right guard and broke up many McGill plays.

There was no individual star on the McGill team but every man gave all that was in him from start to finish. The absence of Turple, who was out with a slight attack of water on knee, was a great detriment to the forward line, as they were a tripple wild on a number of shots. They played the floor well at all times, but lacked consistent scoring ability. Against this however must be set the fact they have not had as much practice together as have their opponents and were playing on a strange floor. By the time the inter-collegiate schedule opens a great improvement will in all probability be noticed. However Davis Boucher and Phipps worked hard and gave great promise of developing into a first class forward line.

Hard checking was in evidence at all stages of the game and Referee Moore, who had the game well in hand, was forced to give a number of personal fouls. McGill had a slight edge on their opponents in this department scoring four of the attempts while the Y.M.H.A. made three count. This is Moore's first appearance as a referee here and it may be said that practically nothing escaped him. In fact he worked almost as hard as the players did.

The game started with McGill scoring the first basket on a pretty combination play. Y.M.H.A. evened up a few minutes later and scored again on a free throw. The play saw-sawed back and forth on the floor with one team or the other working the ball down only to shoot wild or lose possession on a pass. Y.M. soon scored again and Phipps counted

MACCABAEANS HEAR "CHOSEN PEOPLE" IDEA

Symposium Held at Circle Meeting Yesterday

THREE ADDRESSES

J. Spector, N. Reich and H. Freeman Were Speakers

National superiority in all its aspects was dealt with yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Maccabaeans circle held in the Union Ballroom. The discussion took the form of a symposium and was participated in by J. Spector B. A. N. Reich Arts '25 and H. Freeman B. A. The origin and development of the "Chosen People" idea was considered in the greatest detail by each of the speakers, and while there was insufficient time for a general discussion at the close of the meeting, as is usually customary, the consensus of opinion was that the members had been privileged to hear an exceedingly discussion on a topic of the most vital importance to the Jewish people.

In introducing the subject Jack Spector touched on the fact that at some time or other, every nation had claimed superiority in one way or another. Peoples have been led often to self-assertion through patriotism and nationalism. In this the best with its fatal result in the catastrophic example could be seen in Germany of 1914. The Nordic conception of superiority was also discussed by the speaker. At the basis of the whole idea is the ego-national egoism Spector declared.

Nathan Reich took the subject from the historic standpoint. He showed that the Jewish people owed their very existence to this "Chosen People" conception. Other peoples had fulfilled their mission and then disappeared from sight. But the Jews had kept on and remain as a great example of perseverance and struggle with a continual contribution coming from them to the civilization of the world. The Jews were able to accomplish this, in Reich's opinion, solely on account of superiority—and this kept them from absorption.

The origin of the idea would lie in the monotheism of the Jews. The idea is entirely bound up with a belief of one God. With that was their moral attitude towards life, all tending towards this conception of superiority people. And compared with the morality of other people of the times there was indeed every reason for this idea.

Briefly Reich traced the stand of the Jew throughout history showing that in Hellenistic and later in Roman cultures he internationalist doctrine of the prophets superseded the idea of the Greeks and Romans exemplified in their attitudes to what they called the "Barbarians" and their acceptance of slavery something coming in as an ordinary feature in everyday life. The Jew of to-day is of necessity superior in some ways. Not only has history made him so, but his enor-

BOREDOM TEXT-BOOKS AND SUNDRIES

With the Christmas holidays approaching, but still two weeks away, the term for many is beginning to drag, and students show signs of being "fed-up", of being bored with their studies and the university. This is too bad, for it is not one of the purposes of a university to send forth men who will not be bored with life? Nevertheless it is easy to understand how even university students may become bored when they see nothing more in university life than lectures, text-books and examinations. The opportunity is theirs to attain a variety of interests and a widened outlook upon life. If they took advantage of this opportunity then their existence might not seem so monotonous.

Of course, even then there would be many monotonous things to be done which could not be well avoided. They would have to turn at last from readable books to dry text-books; they would have to leave sometime the brighter, more interesting side of college life to attend dull lectures, and always before them would lie the examinations. Such things must be faced, but not necessarily with bitterness.

Similarly, in life after graduation, though a university may teach a man to go into the world and not be bored, to be alone and not be lonely, yet it cannot assure him of a life of peace and quietness. Nothing can do that. And it is doubtful if man would have it otherwise. He will probably find, as John Buchan said in his recent address here, that the only real peace is peace of mind.

In preparing students for the inevitable battle which they must enter in the future, the university has its part and a great part. If it can teach its students to play the game and fight on to the end, surely it has accomplished its purpose. To gain courage is what you came to St. Andrews for, said Barrie in his wonderful speech to the students of that old Scottish university. That is the great thing.

For when we come to the end, what is victory going to matter, or defeat, so long as we can say with Paul, "I have fought a good fight—" or with Stevenson, "I have done my damndest."

CLASS MAY SAVE MUCH GOOD CASH

Annual Board Offers Premium to Classes

FREE PICTURE

Subscription Campaign Closes Definitely on Dec. 17

The customary fee for insertion of class groups in the Annual will now be charged to the class who sell the largest percentage of Annuals, according to a decision at the Board. This means a saving of several dollars to that particular class. The rumour in the Daily a few days ago, that the board might pay the government sales tax, on the books instead of having the student do so, is in past years, is founded on fact. It will be necessary, however, that the subscription list total 1200 before this can be done.

The subscription campaign closes definitely on December 17, and only a sufficient number of annuals is printed to supply those who sign the form. This means that an annual cannot be obtained unless the student expresses his desire for one by signing the list immediately. From time to time, the amount of subscriptions obtained will be published in the Daily, in order that the students may know how near they are towards having the price of the book further lowered.

The printing contract will be awarded next week, and copy will be submitted to the printers as soon as this is done. Considerable work will also be done on the publication during the Christmas holidays, in order that it may be published as early in the season as possible, without omitting any information or articles per-

As far as it has been ascertained, the biographies, this year are somewhat more original than they have been previously, and some make really humorous reading. Though the juniors are not being neglected in the book, considerable space is devoted to general college activities. This is in keeping with the Board's policy of producing a book of general interest, rather than one which will interest only those who are in their junior years. Special efforts are being made this year to have the club and society write-ups take a more interesting form than they have on previous occasions. Originality is being urged in all departments.

The Art Editor has reported that several fine drawings have been submitted for the book.

CLASS GROUPS

A tentative schedule for the taking of class groups is printed below. Class presidents are requested to confirm the suggested hours by getting in touch with the photograph editor of the Annual AT ONCE at the Union.

A fee of seven dollars ($7.00) will be collected at the time that the group is taken. This covers both the cost of the negative and insertion in the annual (full page). Proofs will be on view at the Annual Board room. Through a special arrangement groups pictures, when ordered through the Annual Board, will be obtainable at the reduced rate of ONE DOLLAR. This is a saving of twenty-five cents per copy, over last year. It will be necessary for the class president to remit in advance for the pictures desired, in order that this substantial saving may be effected. The pictures will be taken in front of the respective buildings.

McGILL TEAM IS DEFEATED DECISIVELY

McGill Intermediates Played
North Branch Y.M.C.A.

SCORE 15-48

Lack of Checking Was Noticeable Throughout Game

On Saturday evening last, the McGill Intermediate Basketball team met with a decisive defeat at the hands of the senior team of the North Branch Y. M. C. A., the final score being 15-48.

The game started off with a push and both sides played well the first point being scored by the Y. M. C. A. team who soon added two more points to their score by a well aimed shot. McGill next scored a good goal which was followed up by another made by Connor who played a consistently good game throughout. The Y. M. team by means of good combination and first-rate checking scored 24 more points before the half-time whistle blew. The McGill team did not increase its score materially with the exception of one point made by Connor and two shots made by Weldon and Rafalovitch respectively, bringing the Red and White team's score up to 9 at half time.

In the second half the Y. M. team had the advantage all the way through. Their combination and checking were excellent while McGill's checking was very bad and contributed in no small measure towards the loss of the game. In the latter half, the North end team kept the play mostly at McGill's basket and piled up 29 more points to their credit. Loom's scored an additional goal for McGill, and 2 points were made by free shots, as well as one other basket made by Red and White just before time. The final score rested at 15-48.

TRI-COLOUR SECONDS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Overwhelm Sarnia in Intermediate Title Contest

25-2

Mud-covered Players Slid all Over Slippery Field in Kingston Saturday

The victorious march of the Queen's seconds towards the Dominion Intermediate championship ended on their home grounds Saturday when the Tri-colour overwhelmed the gridiron warriors from Sarnia, that Western Ontario football town that sent Hanna Red and White senior squad and Spears and Pugh to this season's Coach Jack Newton and McGibbon to Varsity's. The final score of the game that gave the title to the Kingston collegians stood at 25-2.

The contest was played on a field of mud and under threatening skies.
Long before the end the men of both sides were covered with mud and were slipping all over the field.

It was not until the second half that Queen's broke through and ran away with the game. At the end of the first quarter they were ahead 3 to 1.
In this period both teams were kicking, neither being able to gain on backs.
Yards were made only once, by the collegians at the close of the quarter.

Sarnia added another point in the second before the home team got going. Then an end run brought Queen's with striking distance and Mc-Kelvey went over for a touch that was converted making the half-time score 9-2 for Queen's.

The third and fourth quarters were all Queen's. Ada and Voss were running back-kicks in the Leadly. Bal-stone fashion, the Tri-colour end runs were getting away, while their backs were breaking through the Sarnia line for gain after gain. The Tunnel Town outfit failed to add to their score, and only once did they make a real gain when Karn went through for twenty yards. A touch in the third quarter brought Queen's total to 14, while a rouge and two unconverted touches in the last period made the final count, Queen's 25; Sarnia 2.

JUNIORS ARE BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

Finals of R.V.C. Interclass Series
FRESHIES SECOND
Juniors Defeat Sophs. 44-20;
Freshies win from Seniors
39-15

The R. V. C. Juniors won the inter-class Basketball Championship by defeating the Sophomores 44-20 in a hard fought game at Nelson's Hall on Saturday afternoon. The game between the Seniors and the Freshies resulted in a victory for the latter, the final score being 39-15. The total number of games won by each class is as follows:—
R. V. C. '24-3, R. V. C. '28 2, R.
V. C. '25-1, R. V. C. '27-0.

SENIOR vs FRESHIES
The first game to be played was that between the Seniors and the Freshies. Each team had one victory to its credit and was determined to win another, so that the match was exciting from the outset.

The ball was first carried to the first year goal, where the first basket was made after a scramble. It was not until after several points had been scored for the Freshies that the ball was finally taken to the other end where Miss Chalk made a splendid shot from the line. The play was rough and a number of fouls were made. Miss Carter scored a basket for First Year from the side, which was immediately followed by one for Fourth Year by Miss Chalk.

Towards the end of the period the Freshies succeeded in keeping the play around their goal most of the time and at half-time the score stood 21-8 in their favour.

len played her usual steady and accurate game and scored many points for the Juniors, while Miss Cameron and Miss Scriver were outstanding in their work for the Sophomore team.
The score at the end of the first period was 10-12 for the Juniors, and their victory was practically certain though the Sophomores rallied splendly in the second period.

SOPHOMORES vs. FRESHIES
The first game of the afternoon was between the second teams of the Second and First Year. The sides were very evenly matched, and although some rather furious playing was seen at the beginning of the match, several good combinations were employed to manoeuvre the ball to the basket.

Miss A. Turner secured the first goal for the Sophomores in the first few minutes of play. This was followed by a free throw by Miss J. Olesker and the score stood 2-1 for Second Year.

The First Year team then gained the lead, and scored two points ahead until just before the half time whistle when the Sophs. brought the score up to 7-7.

In the second half the game was more even, and much better basketball was being played. Miss J. Olesker by a clever shot put the Freshmer once more in the lead with the score 9-7. However, Miss A. Turner soon found the basket, and once again the teams were tied 9-9.

The Sophomores worked particularly hard from that point until the end of the game, and by three more well placed shots took the advantage for their team. The game with the score of 15-9 in favour of Second Year.

Many interesting and instructive features of the cement industry were revealed to these members of the Chemical Industry Club who were fortunate enough to visit the factories of the Canada Cement Co. at Pointe aux Trembles, on Saturday afternoon.

The students were met by Mr. Shipley, the chief chemist, who kindly undertook to take them through the works.

The factory is situated on the edge of a quarry, where the clay limestone necessary for the industry is obtained.

The raw materials are conveyed in "jimmy cars" from the quarry and are dumped into the "rotary breakers". From here the somewhat broken rock is sent through a gyratory crusher which breaks it into pieces of a size 3 to 4 inches in diameter. The material is then carried through rotary dryers, at a temperature of about 500 degrees, to the hammer mills where the small pieces are further broken.

By means of belt conveyors the material which is now in the form of small fragments is taken through the comminutor table, and thence to the tube mills. On leaving the latter the material is in such a state of division that 95 per cent. will pass through a mesh sieve. The material is now chiefly calcium carbonate mixed with aluminium silicate (clay). It is in this state, as a mixture that it enters the kilns.

The kilns, of which there are seven, are of the rotary type, approximately 160 feet long and of a diameter of 12 feet. These are heated by the combustion of finely powdered coal which into one end of the kiln. The temperature raised by this means of combustion is about 3500 degrees F. The mixture enters one end of the kiln and before it reaches the other end it is converted into a chemical compound consisting of tri-calcium silicate dicalcium aluminate. This forms what is technically known as the "clinker". During the combustion carbon dioxide is driven thus increasing the percentage of calcium in the material. About 65 per cent. of the mixture which enters the kiln is recovered as lime. The "clinker" in a red-hot state is carried by a bucket conveyor and is dumped under large sheds where it remains in large piles until it is cool and ready for further treatment.

This compound is now mixed with 31-2 per cent. gypsum and under-goes treatment similar to that which it received before it was burned in the kilns, i.e. it is passed through the comminutor table and tube mills. Here it comes out a finished product, 80 per cent. of which will pass through a 200 mesh sieve. It is stored in remains until required for trade.

Mr. Shipley stated that during the winter they turned out about 12000 barrels a day. This is stored and shipped during the summer, when as many as 15,000 20,000 barrels are shipped daily.

Mr. Shipley took the visitors through the laboratory where physical tests are carried out. These include tests for the tensile strength of a 3-1 mixture of sand and cement, the setting properties, and fineness of product.

This concluded a trip which was made very interesting through the kindness and willingness to explain details on the part of Mr. Shipley, the company's chemist.

The Gallery God

An Author. At the age of twenty-six he is already a well-known contributor to the leading popular magazines, and his clientele of ardent admirers is growing day by day. He is not one of your young moderns who turn their talent to devastating realism or sordid tragedy. His is the sweet story, the tender tale of handsome men and beautiful women, or romance meetings and happy culminations.

To look at him one would never guess that he is a literary man. His features have none of the sensitiveness which one usually associates with persons of artistic impulses. He is distinctly nondescript, or at best, a good imitation of a poor bookkeeper. It is a matter of record that a good many people who know him are not aware that he is a writer—he, of course, uses a pen-name. In manner and speech, too, he is very ordinary; that is, until you get to know him really well or are one of the few persons who act as a stimulus to him on your first meeting.

He does not go to very many parties: for one matter, he is a poor mixer; for another matter, they bore him. The nature of his work requires that he spend most of his time by himself, and when he is not working or dreaming, he reads or plays the piano. Three or four times a week he meets his men friends, and they stay in and talk or go to a show. There are comparatively few women whom he is fond of: the "intelligent" women with her serious discussions and heavy affections gets on his nerves; and the flapper type, when she does not know who he is, does not take to him, and if she finds out that he is "O. F." the novelist, regards him first with great surprise and then treats him with too much respect.

Even in the method of his work there is nothing out of the ordinary about him. One thinks of an author in terms of inspiration; of flights of composition; of stony-eyed gazing for days without writing a word; of hours of agonizing torture; of working from midnight to morning; of locking himself up for days without of queer apparel; of certain smells of seeling anyone; of wearing all kinds certain noises which launch him on a new idea; of sterile periods; of loose, irregular habits. Not so with him. He sits down at his table at nine o'clock every morning, dresses as if he was working in a broker's office, and with but a small break for lunch, writes up to four-thirty or five in the afternoon. He has a definite daily output, and this output varies little from day to day. Ideas come to him very easily, and he always has briefly sketched in his mind three or four stories ahead of the one he is still working on. Very often he is at work on a new story fifteen minutes after finishing one.

The Divine Inspiration. Too much fuss, largely by sentimental school-boys and young birds, has been made over the importance of woman as helpmate in a man's career. The woman who helps her husband most is not usually she who is "his best friend and severest critic," but rather she who leaves him alone, unmolested and unhandered, to do his work.

PROF. S. B. SLACK TO PLAY AT CHESS CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Chess Club scheduled to begin at 5 p. m. promptly this afternoon in the Lounge Room of the Union is to have an unusually interesting feature in the fact that Prof. S. B. Slack, honorary president of the club, has consented to be present to give an exhibition of simultaneous play.

Last year in a similar exhibition Prof. Slack defeated the members of the club a most interesting hour and he will again show his ability to handle several games of chess simultaneously this afternoon. The added fact that in spite of the handicap that one works under in this sort of playing, Prof. Slack usually comes off the victor, is bound to ensure a marked interest among those who have never before seen him in action. All members, and others interested are urged to be present.

Those who have seen Prof. Slack's splendid play in the various contests which the McGill Club has participated in against outside teams will realize that in these he has never as yet lost a single game. Chess players will be afforded a rare opportunity this afternoon to see the honorary president of the club in action.

MANY NEW MEN AT RIFLE CLUB MEET
Use Excellent Gallery in Montreal High School

Many new faces were to be seen Saturday afternoon at the weekly practice of the McGill Rifle Club. McGill men are realizing the number of advantages to be gained by association with the Rifle Club with the result that each practice brings a number of new members. Since it is still early in the shooting season Saturday afternoon's scores were not recorded although some fairly good targets were handed in.

The Rifle Club has lately received the very encouraging news that the C. O. T. C. are offering four extra spoons this year, besides the usual two. Members are therefore looking forward to some keen and interesting competitions during the winter.

Some time during the second term a team composed of the twenty best shots contests for the Inter-Collegiate title. A little later they will probably meet Yale and Harvard as in former years.

With such men as Manville (Team Captain), Yerxa, Moore, Punde, Patton and others, McGill should show up very favorably in these events.

for McGill. The play was very even until in the last five minutes the Y.M.H.A. drew away scoring several baskets. The score at half time was 14-8 for the home team.

The second half was more even the Y.M.H.A. out scoring their visitors by only three points. They started out with a rush scoring more than McGill but were slowing up after the first five minutes. Koff was injured about this time and had to be carried off. The McGill team called time out and held a consultation. When the game was resumed they played like a whirlwind but were unable to gain on the other team. Several times they worked into position but were unable to score, the Y.M. guards playing an air tight game.

In the latter part of the game. In the latter part of the game McGill scored several times and kept control of the play. Hilton's work as guard during this time was noticeable and Quackenbush followed down the floor for one very pretty basket. Mendelsohn was brilliant at this time for the blue and white and scored on openings several times. Kert also showed up well. The game ended with the score 27-18 for the Y.M.H.A.

In a preliminary game the Y.M.H. A. junior won from the central Y. M.C.A. intermediate in a fast exhibition of basketball, by a score of 25-21. The game was very close each team having compiled 12 points in

AT THE CAPITOL THIS WEEK
Gloria Swanson in "Wages of Virtue" will be seen at the Capitol this week. The story is an adaptation by Forrest Halsey of the story by Capt. Percival Wren. Some of the well-known stars on the cast are Ben Lyon, Norman Trevor and Ivan Linow. The story is about an Italian girl Carmelita, a product of the slums of Naples, who becomes the toast of the regiment in Algiers. The role is played by Miss Gloria Swanson. The Capitol Orchestra will play "Madame Butterfly" as an added attraction. Miss Ivy Scotts will sing excerpts from "Madame Butterfly". Other attractions are "Our Gang in Sunday Calm", a dance by Ruloff and Elton. A very enjoyable programme awaits the patrons.
